Trends and Experiences

This volume examines religiosity on university campuses in Sub-Saharan Africa. Focusing on both individuals and organized groups, the contributions open a window onto how religion becomes a factor, affects social interactions, is experienced and mobilized by various actors. It brings together case studies from various disciplinary backgrounds (anthropology, sociology, history, religious studies) and theoretical orientations to illustrate the significance of religiosity in recent developments on university campuses. It pays a particular attention to religion-informed activism and contributes a fresh analysis of processes that are shaping both the experience of being student and the university campus as a moral space. Finally, it sheds light onto the ways in which the campus becomes a site of a reformulation of both religiosity and sociality.

'Civilizing' Resource Investments and Extractivism

Attempts to 'civilize' the exploitation of natural and mineral resources are globally promoted. The body of rules and regulations -often the outcome of prolonged socio-environmental and political struggles- is impressive. However, the outcomes of their implementation are much less convincing. The chapters in this book show how international law is curtailing national and local regulation, while existing legislation is often watered-down, circumvented or reinterpreted with severe environmental, health and socio-economic impacts, particularly in the 'global south'.

Partnerships and Power Games

Natural Resources Governance and Management in the Okavango Delta

The Okavango Delta Management Plan development process - the main arena for negotiating stakes in and access to the Okavango Delta land and water resources - is a battlefield for partnerships and power games. In other natural resource management side events, mini platforms have been created and partnerships formed to negotiate stakes and claim authority and rights over resources. Those with political, economic and knowledge power stand a better chance to win power games, resulting in the 'survival of the most resourced'. In the book it is suggested that defragmentation of natural resource management through integration at all scales will spread resources and facilitate equity and benefit sharing.

The Dynamic of Social and Cultural Heritages in Rwanda

The book describes a number of Rwandan post-genocide initiatives aiming at developing a common sense of identity in the population and addressing social, cultural and economic issues. This proactive approach indicates the will of the Rwandan government with the cooperation of social actors to resort to traditional - and in some cases precolonial - cultural practices to resolve the problems of nation-building. The essays are well documented; many of them based on empirical studies.

Access to Justice Beyond the State Courts

A Solution to the Crisis of Justice in Burundi?

Costliness, excessive delay, bias against the weak, corruption, underfunding, insufficiency of legal skills and shortage of training programmes (for the judicial staff in its diversity), complexity of legal rules and procedures, including the language of both the law and the Court, dependency vis-à-vis the political authorities; these are flaws documented as hindering equal and effective access to Burundi's formal state court justice system. This book argues that engaging with out-of-court justice in Burundi's legal pluralism model may positively impact on people's access to justice, particularly for the underprivileged.

Ansätze zur Friedenspolitik in Nachkriegsgebieten.
Approches des politiques de paix dans les pays post-conflit

La Justice peut-elle être une condition du pardon et de la réconciliation ? Cette question, bien qu'elle soit rarement posée, est au centre de la problématique des politiques de Paix dans les pays post-conflit. Les pays de l'Europe centrale comme ceux de l'Afrique des Grands-Lacs ont connu des guerres qui ont affecté le tissu social rendant ainsi le processus du pardon et de réconciliation très difficile. La recherche de la vérité, bien que complexe, pour ne pas dire illusoire, semble être déterminant dans le processus de Justice et Pardon-réconciliation.

Ces Thèmes ont été - dans une approche comparée - au centre des débats et des conférences dans le cadre de la Girubuntu Peace Academy (GPA). Le présent volume en est le résultat.

Disenchanted Modernities

Mega-Infrastructure Projects, Socio-Ecological Changes and Local Responses

Mega-Infrastructure Projects (MIPs) represent a central element of globalized development. MIPs like the Chinese driven 'Belt and Road Initiative' (BRI) include large-scale agrarian, road, rail, port and energy networks. They are complex ventures involving international capital and multiple stakeholders.

'Disenchanted Modernities' presents 16 case studies showing that the promise of a sustainable modern development by MIPs leave many local users disenchanted: They don't profit from the MIPs but lose access to their resources often held in common. The book describes the strategies of states and companies as well as local responses to MIPs in Asia, Africa, Americas and Europe.

Ewe

Die Zwillingsfiguren der Ewe (Venavi-Figuren). Twin Sculptures of the Ewe (Venavi Sculptures)

The Ewe tribe in Togo and Benin believes that twins share one soul. If one of the twins dies, a Venavi is made so that the soul of the deceased twin has a place to live in and need not wander around. These sculptures are worshipped and venerated. The seemingly expressive contemporary appearance of the small wooden figures may be due to the fact that the dead twins are regarded as being alive.

Recently Venavi sculptures have been utilized in Voodoo ceremonies.

Ibeji

Der Totenkult der Yoruba. The Death Cult of the Yoruba

The Yoruba people of Nigeria consider the birth of twins a special blessing. Due to the high mortality rate of twins, Yoruba mothers are often confronted with a child's death. The twins are believed to share only one soul. When a twin dies, the surviving twin would be unable to live. The Ibeji sculpture for the deceased twin can thus contain the other half of the soul. Yorubas do not draw a strict line between life and death. To them there is a close interaction between the spiritual and the material world.

The Twin Cult is one of the oldest known cults of mankind.

Who wants to be a Millionaire?

An Analysis of Prosperity Teaching in the Charismatic Ministries (Churches) in Ghana and its Wider Impact

Prosperity Teaching is fast becoming a standard part of contemporary African Christianity. This teaching is best understood in the Charismatic and Pentecostal churches in Africa. The varied expressions and nuances call for a critical analysis of the phenomenon.

Prosperity Teaching affirms wealth, divine healing, good health and long-life as manifestations of God's blessing. Conspicuous consumption is often seen as a sign of a successful life and suffering has no place in the divine order of God's sovereignty. This book, Who Wants to be a Millionaire? seeks to bring some understanding to this teaching and shows the extent of its impact in the wider society.

In Memory of Them

Women witnessing to Christ in Ethiopia (1870-2019)

The book presents accounts of women reformers in the Ethiopian Evangelical Church Mekane Yesus (EECMY). The editors collected their stories and put them in a historic context, covering a period of 150 years starting from the arrival of Gustava Lundahl from Sweden in 1870 with her vision of a girls' school.
A large field of experiences is covered from slaves to high standing women; illiterate ones and Bible translators; teachers and medical professionals; women with family responsibilities and those, who dedicated their lives to the gospel; women who were imprisoned and those holding leading positions.
